GETTING BETTER

Despite what I said in this column the other day about the majority of us not being far removed from savagery, I need no argument to convince me, that as a nation and as a people, we are sound at heart.

I still believe that the veneer of civilization that coats us is very thin and that prize fights bring to the surface those impulses which were our predomi-nating traits many centuries ago.

There are many things however which furnish proof that we are advancing along the road of progress. While now and anon I grow skeptical, in my more optimistic moments I am inclined to agree with the views of the minister of the gospel, who in a conversation with me the other day stoutly asserted that the world is growing better, and more spiritual daily. We had quite an intimated discussion, but in thinking over his arguments I feel more receptive to his viewpoint.

TROOPS SENT TO EGYPT

ITALY WILL QUIT LEAGUE IS THREAT

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Sept. 28.—UP.—Squadrons of British troops and heavy reinforcements of bombing planes are arriving daily at Alexandria.

Five hundred troops arrived today. A squadron of 500 flying boats arrived at Aboukir, after flying across Europe. More squadrons are expected early next week.

Royal air force headquarters at Aboukir have been surrounded by sand bag defenses. Naval guns are in position overlooking the harbor.

ITALY THREATENS
ROME, Sept. 28.—UP.—The Italian cabinet threatened today to leave the League of Nations if penalties are applied against Italy for making war on Ethiopia.

The tone of a communique issued after a long meeting of Premier Benito Mussolini with his ministers, was one of plain notice to the world that Italy intends to subdue Abyssinia by force of arms.

KEEP WAR LOCAL
The cabinet declared it nevertheless was determined to keep the war from spreading to Europe, if possible. It made a strong plea for a separate understanding with Great Britain, asserting that Italy

Thaw Walks Out Of Hospital In Defi To Doctors

QUEBEC, Que., Sept. 28.—UP.—Harry K. Thaw wrote another chapter in his eccentric career late today when he walked out of the Hotel Dieu hospital against the advice of physicians who had been treating him for French pneumonia.

Disregarding the fact that only a few days ago his life had been precariously hanging in the balance, Thaw scoffed at nurses who begged him to remain in bed, dressed and boarded a train for Montreal.

The Pittsburgh millionaire who slew Stanford White, brilliant architect, in one of the most sensational murder cases on record, arrived here early this week aboard the Empress of Britain. He was taken off by stretcher and rushed to the hospital.

Thaw was taken ill after he embarked on the liner at Cherbourg. He passed the crisis Friday and predicted his full recovery. With his returning strength the playboy announced he did not care for the type of treatment he was getting and wished to leave immediately for New York.

Townsend Rebels Form New Group
SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 28.—UP.—Five hundred representatives of all Santa Cruz county Townsend clubs, backing Sam J. Daley, depicted as eighth congressional district manager when he made a public demand for an accounting of funds by State and national headquarters today announced the formation of the Affiliated Pension Clubs of America.

Memal Votes Today On German Alliance
MEMAL, Sept. 28.—UP.—The eyes of Europe were turned tonight to this small strip of East Prussia, given to Lithuania as a protectorate in 1923 and a source of international anxiety ever since. Tomorrow the Memal diet will be selected by general election and observed concede the United German Party will defeat the Lithuanian groups.

MANY DEAD AS STORM HITS CUBA

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 28.—UP.—Havana prepared tonight to rich-relief to the south coast areas stricken by the Caribbean hurricane which tore across Santa Clara province early today, causing damage, officially estimated at several millions of dollars.

Casualties so far reported placed the number of dead at 30 and over 300 injured in the City of Havana, where navy radio reports announced more than 1,000 buildings were damaged or destroyed.

RELIEF SENT
The first relief convoy, composed of 20 doctors and 80 nurses, in terms and laborers, left in four trucks, to automobiles and two ambulances for Santa Clara late today. The majority will proceed to Cienfuegos where the greatest destruction was reported.

Meanwhile, accounts from Santa Clara province, coming over army portable radio stations, indicated great damage to buildings and crops, especially sugar cane. Live stock losses were said to be considerable.

BEARS EKE OUT NARROW WIN IN DOUBLE HEADER

BERKELEY, Sept. 28.—UP—For 57 minutes this afternoon, eleven fighting men from Little Whittier college, did their best to split mighty University of California's opening gridiron program.

But human flesh and bone and sinew couldn't stand the pounding any longer and the Golden Bears put over a touchdown that enabled them to defeat the erstwhile battle, 6 to 0, and crown their opener with success by winning both ends of a football double header.

The first victory came easy, with none of the variety setting into action. The California representatives waited to a 17 to 0 victory over the California Aggies, an annual sacrifice to the gridiron motto of the Berkeley Hills.

The second win came the hard way and for those 57 minutes none of the 20,000 fans assembled in the stadium believed the Bears were going to get it.

But only nine minutes left to play between action when a clutch kick by the home team, which elected to use his ultra machine gun, won the game, 6 to 0, by scoring the winning point.

U. S. Ryder Cup Team Wins Over British Players

RIDGEWOOD, N. J., Sept. 28.—Working on the theory that champions should be able to go in any sort of weather, the American Ryder Cup team drove, pitched, and putted beautifully over the rains and country club course today to overwhelm their English rivals in the fourth round, which opened the biennial competition of the world's greatest golf professionals.

The 12-career best-bet team, including Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, the Americans saved three of the four to come, all by break scores, to lift the cup which they last won a year ago. The Americans need but to win four of tomorrow's singles engagements.

Murder Theory Under Probe In Death Of Miner

FRESNO, Sept. 28.—UP—Describing the death of Henry Parish, 57 year old miner, as a "probable accident," Coroner J. N. Lisle called off an inquest planned for today.

Although the investigation into the death of the Simpson Plate miner, whose partly decomposed body was found with a bullet hole in the back, after a deadly search in the wild and mountainous Davis Flat region will be continued, Coroner Lisle said a previous theory of murder had been discarded.

Closer surveys showed Parish might have been shot accidentally during a deer hunt.

Tracy Pharrhill's big Red machine down at Stanford was named a surprise package in the form of the San Jose State College eleven. Last year's Coast champions went into the game, expecting to take an easy victory from the States, imagine their surprise, however, when the Spartans carried the fight into Stanford territory, out-fought, out-played and outmaneuvered the Cardinals for the first half of the game. Just before the half ended, Stanford scored seven points to end the visitors. In the second half the Cardinals put on the pressure, scored on touchdown in the third quarter and three more in the fourth to win by a score of 23-0.

SANTA CLARA IN WIN OVER DONS ELEVEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—UP—Santa Clara University eleven, exhibiting a brilliant array of spinners, receivers and broken field running, romped through the University of San Francisco football team to a 20 to 7 victory today.

The U. S. F. Dons were completely bewildered by the variety of the Santa Clara Bronco attack. The issue was never in doubt. The Broncos opened their parade shortly before the gun ended the first period, came back with a rapid fire follow-up shortly after the second quarter began, and topped the performance with another trip into the end zone near the end of the third session.

U. S. F. went scoreless until four minutes before the final gun when a long pass from Borchardt, Don left half, to big Ray Peterson put the ball on the Santa Clara three yard line.

Two thrusts at the line were ineffective but Vasco Pucci crashed center for a score and saved U. S. F. from a shut-out.

Notre Dame In Victory Over Kansas Eleven

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 28.—UP—Notre Dame's dramatic football comeback under the coaching of Elmer Layden, began last season, was reopened today at the expense of Kansas University.

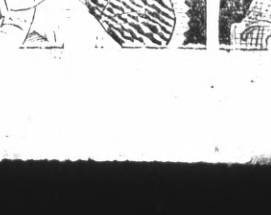

The Irish scored in every quarter to triumph 28 to 7. Layden's team was versatile, confident and unusually well polished for the opening contest.

A crowd of 25,000 half filled the stadium. Bright sunshine flooded the gridiron and the air was just cool enough to make conditions perfect.

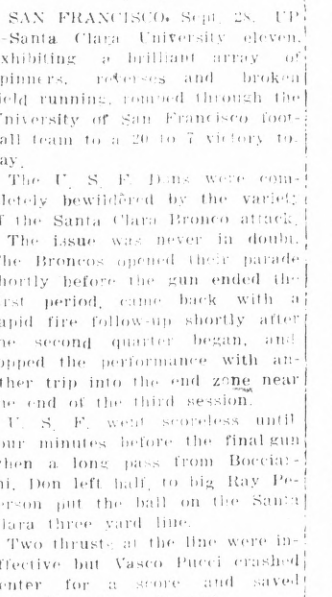

Victory was doubly welcome to Notre Dame because two years ago Kansas started the Irish off on a disastrous season by holding them to a scoreless tie.

It was not until the fourth quarter that Stanford displayed the power that is usually theirs. A fresh supply of Stanford backs and the firing State defense combined to produce three more Stanford touchdowns in the final period.

FAIRBANKS PLEASED OVER ALMOND CROP

Friends of Al Fairbanks were glad to see him back in El Cerrito when he returned yesterday morning for a short stay.

He has been for the past six weeks up at Arbuckle harvesting his almond crop. He made enough on the almonds this season to keep the old wolf kicked from the door for quite a while. He had a bumper crop and found the quality of the almonds exceptionally fine. Since the almond crop this year was short in almost every other section of the State, the Arbuckle orchardists received a good price, the best for several seasons. As a result of all this, Al is securing a home sale these days. He will return to Arbuckle Tuesday to continue and cultivate the orchard and get it in shape for another good crop next season. He expects to return to El Cerrito after the Fall work is done, about six weeks hence.

High scores were held by Mrs. Charles Schwake and Mrs. Ella Eldridge, and Lady Luck, being against Mrs. Adah Huber, who was forced to content herself with the bonus prize. The club will meet every Friday at noon.

HI-Y GIRLS SET DATE FOR BIG DANCE

El Cerrito Hi-Y girls at Thursday evening's meeting set November 1 as the date for their big masquerade party and dance. The Harding Boys' Club will join in sponsoring the masquerade, and it will probably be held in Harding auditorium, although this has not been definitely decided upon. Admission will be 25 cents per couple and 15 cents for single girls, etc.

Several members of the Harding Boys' Club were present on Thursday evening and a committee from the club will meet with the Hi-Y girls next Thursday at the Community Methodist church parlors to complete arrangements for the masquerade.

The Hi-Y group is casting about for a club house or meeting place of their own but so far nothing quite suitable has been found. A committee has the matter under advisement and an announcement is expected soon.

The announcement said the Empress' health is good. She has been at the Summer palace at Hayaama.

BILLINGS AND MOONEY FACE BITTER ATTACK

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—(UP)—Warren K. Billings, convicted of participating with Tom Mooney in the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing in which 10 persons lost their lives, will face a bitter attack by Assistant Attorney General William F. Cleary when the Mooney habeas corpus hearing enters its third week Monday, it was indicated today.

Billings, on the stand throughout the hearing Friday and part of Thursday, withstood repeated attacks upon his credibility as a witness.

Cleary, however, late in Friday session, succeeded in getting Billings to say he had not conspired with Mooney and Edward Nolan to say nothing about asserted subversive activities of Billings, who admitted spraying automobiles with paint remover during a labor dispute.

The assistant attorney general then read from the record of the 1930 Supreme Court hearing at Tolson prison, when Billings sought a parole, at which Billings admitted he and Mooney and Nolan in 1916 had agreed to suppress reference to Billings' activities with paint remover.

"Is what you said at the Supreme Court hearing false or true?" Cleary shouted.

"It is probably true if in record," Billings replied quietly. "But I had previously decided myself, without consulting the others, that I would say nothing about it because when I was arrested I thought they were plotting me up in connection with dynamiting of the United Railroad tracks and I didn't want to do anything that would involve the others."

Eye Always Has Been the Center of Fighting Objectives

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISTMAN, M.D.

THE eye, being the "window of the soul," has always been the chief object of attack from both enemies and friends. The primitive savage strove to destroy his enemies' sight. The police, bandits, and armies seek to blind their opponents with tear gas and pepper. The small boy with his sling shot, his air gun, or bow-and-arrow always seems to aim at his playmate's eyes. Boys fighting in the alley go for each other's eyes. His favorite threat is, "I'll punch you in the eye."

The little girl who loses her temper and wants to fight says, "I'll scratch your eyes out." In any scrap your enemy aims at your eyes and tries to prevent you with a black eye or "shiner" which is so difficult to explain away. Even when you assure your friends that you fell down or bumped against an open door, or that it had been just a friendly little boxing match they smile tolerantly.

The black eye isn't so very painful or inconvenient, but it is difficult to explain away. Even the tiny baby, making his first experiments in feeling objects, insists on sticking his index finger into your eye or that of any convenient animal. The toy dog or doll soon suffers the loss of its eyes, eyed out by curious fingers, and things just can't keep out of the eyes. A stick in a little child's hands seems to be always getting into its own or some other child's eye.

The Eye Difficulty

Cinders, soot, gravel, hairs from the eye wipers, and other particles, all seem to have a special affinity for the eye. Workers in shops and factories, stone masons, automobile drivers, are plagued with stone or steel particles that fly into the eye. Nature has provided great protection for the eyes by placing them in a socket protected from above by the eyebrow, on one side by the nose, and further by the extremely sensitive and quick acting eyelid and eye wipers.

The eyelid acts with incredible speed to protect the eye from injury, but often it is not quick enough. Then our instinctive effort to protect the eye from injury and the extreme pain when a flying object strikes against the eye ball, causes us to forget all else and drop whatever we are holding and seek to cover the injured eye with the hands.

It is a serious question how many of the unaccountable accidents to automobiles are caused by a flying particle or insect against the eye of the driver. Temporarily the injured one forgets everything but that eye.

Those engaged in occupations in which flying particles are common or in driving with an open windshield should always wear glasses to protect the eyes. The comical goggles worn by auto drivers in the old open cars, are still very serviceable auto accessories.

The black swollen eye does no particular harm except to your pride and vanity. It is the result of the breaking of a blood vessel in the loose tissue around the eye and will be absorbed in short order.

Cure Not Difficult

Cold compresses and a snug bandage are all that is necessary at the beginning, later hot applications and massage may be of assistance. If the swelling is very tense and it is necessary that the color be lessened, a physician can draw away some of the excess blood with a needle.

Do not use natural leeches, because of the danger of infection or of serious irritation to the eye. Raw beef steak, an oyster, or sea leaves are without benefit and may be the source of serious infection. It is a waste of good beef steak.

Cuts of the eye lids or eye brows should receive the most expert care. Cleansing with hot water and protection by sterile dressings applied as soon as possible—and then see a doctor. The resulting scar, if not carefully cared for, are very disfiguring and contraction may prevent the lid from being raised or lowered properly.

Penetrating wounds of the eye ball are very serious accidents and should never be neglected. It is often difficult to determine whether a small sliver of steel or stone has penetrated the ball. If an eye remains inflamed longer than a few hours, see an eye specialist. An X-ray or other examination under strong light and magnifying glasses may be necessary to see the object.

Dr. Christman offers readers the privilege of addressing questions to him care of this column. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column on this page.

John Barrymore Remains an Actor

By TALBOT LAKE

THE split-up between John Barrymore and his protegee, Elaine Barrie, proves again that actors are not people, but geniuses. John, youngest of the Barrymore clan, has probably done more than any other of the stage's royal family to show he is in a class by himself. After he left Hollywood and his wife, Dolores Costello, he met young Elaine (Barrie) through a fan letter. They were soon over in company and it was here that Jack would marry her after his divorce was settled. Somehow something went wrong and the break-up came.

The chances are that Barrymore has felt the call of the grease paint—a call he is utterly unable to resist. Wave a contract in front of a Barrymore and he'll start acting all over the place.

John, of the clan, is now in his fifty-third year and getting younger every minute. Many critics have lambasted him on his penchant for showing only the left side of his face when acting in movies, mentioning something about the Great Profile. However, John makes no bones about this; he admits it with the simple explanation: "The right side of my face looks like a fried egg."

He was born in Philadelphia, and is the nephew of the late John Drew, one of the great matinee idols of all time. As a youth he tried newspaper work, and once was fired by Arthur Brisbane. At the time John cursed Brisbane, but he's been blessing him ever since for it was this bad break that brought him on to the stage. At first he did small roles under the derisive remarks from the other Barrymores. Later he developed into a comedian, and won real fame in "The Fortune Hunter."

Barrymore has been in and out of the movies for many years, but the advent of the talkies really gave him a chance to show the world the eye of the actor he was. He's going back to them now, and it won't be long before we see the left side of his face again.

A BROWN SATIN

Do Waistline Exercises to Achieve Elan

By JACQUELINE HUNT

WAISTLINE exercises are first in importance if you want your figure to have the smartness that enables you to carry your clothes with the dash they deserve. Anyway, a slender waistline is always youthful and enviable and if yours has started to thicken or lose its lithe lines get to work with exercise and a sensible diet to put the lazy muscles in their place.

Try this simple but effective exercise. Lie on your back on the floor, the legs straight and the arms stretched overhead. Slowly slice the arms and legs to the right, forming a huge semi-circle with the body. Be sure to keep your hips, shoulders and elbows flat on the floor. Hold this stretching position for a minute, then return to the first position and repeat the exercise, swinging the arms and legs to the left. Repeat first to the right and then to the left, ten to twenty times.

Now, move up on your feet for the figure 8 exercise that is grand for taking off pounds around the middle and making you more graceful to boot. This exercise is easy when you visualize the big figure 8 that you are to draw with the upper part of your body, but it is rather difficult to describe. Here's an attempt, however:

Stand with the feet about twenty-four inches apart, the arms raised above the head, palms facing each other. Now bend the right knee slightly and push the arms as far out to the right as possible. Keeping the knee bent, bend the upper part of the body and arms backward so you face the ceiling. Now push upward with the hands, stretching the torso and swinging it back to the starting position. This completes the first half of your figure 8.

Next swing your body to the left, bending the left knee, swing backward in a big arc, forward and up to complete the figure. Repeat the entire exercise ten times each day. If you are anxious to make your legs more shapely try the old-fashioned exercise of skipping rope, or bicycle riding, either the real kind or the imaginary kind, where you lie on your back and pedal madly. Both of these exercises will also help the waistline.

Try this exercise, too. Lie flat on your back on the floor, feet together and hands at the sides. Now raise the body into a high arch, supporting your weight on your head and heels. Let your hands help you hold the position if necessary. Lower the body to the mat, and repeat ten times. This exercise is far from being as easy as it sounds.

Since we cannot divorce our thoughts of the "mode militaire" from braided ornamentation, it is not surprising that the use of this type of passementerie is being introduced in some of the new hats. While a number of models definitely claim alliance with the army or navy, by the use of gilt or colored braids such as appear on uniforms, there are more conservative ways of handling braided trimming which may hardly be termed military at all.

This applies to all-over or partial surface treatments of cord or flat braid embroidery, in soutache or wider weaves, or in rat-tail effects, which provide a hat which may be worn now, or later, very agreeably with coats or dresses trimmed with braid and frogs.

There is a further opportunity of bringing up this type of hat technique in hats with handbags or belts.

No matter how you wear your veil this season you're sure to be in fashion. For the veil has developed a personality which makes it one of the most flattering, versatile, and tricky details that millinery has had for many a season.

It seems as if Paris designers were testing their ingenuity to determine how ingenious they could be with veils. There is no formula. Sometimes they float down at the back, sometimes at one side and again they are gathered at the front. They are triangular, square, flared, gathered or draped; plain, hand-run, chenille-dotted, shadow-spotted. Sometimes they match the hat and again they contrast with it. They are fine or coarse mesh.

QUESTION: "I have a dry, delicate skin that is inclined to wrinkle, although I massage regularly with a rich cream. Can you recommend an astringent? I also need something to protect my skin, since every particle of dust seems to settle on it and I have many tiny blackheads.—Mrs. Truitt."

I suggest that you try this simple mixture, which is both protective and astringent. Beat the white of a fresh egg until it is runny and strain into a clean bottle. Add to this one ounce rose water and shake until the ingredients are blended. Cleanse your skin thoroughly and massage with your rich cream. Leave the cream on a few minutes, then remove with tissues and warm water. Brush the egg liquid over the areas where the wrinkles and blackheads are inclined to appear, using two applications if your skin doesn't feel too drawn. Leave on overnight. A fresh film of this liquid may be applied and allowed to dry before you apply your make-up. This will remove the dust and grime from settling directly on your skin to clog the pores.

Bleach Shower Curtains

Mildewed cotton shower curtains may be bleached by soaking in Javelle water. (Never use Javelle water on silk or wool or colored goods.) Rinse thoroughly after using this bleach.

A Matter of Accessories

As accessories for this plaid seersucker frock Maureen O'Sullivan, screen favorite, chooses this chic white beret, a linen bag with bright colored stitching as a border, white bracelets and gloves.

Military Air Is Featured By Stylists

By IRENE VAIL

New York—There is a military air everywhere, given principally by gold braid, passementerie "frogs," soutache braiding, narrow edgings of fur, principally Persian lamb, little stand-up band collars, and double-breasted coats and jackets. But it is a romantic, rather than a modern soldierliness, with nothing grim nor mechanical about it; rather one thinks of Hussars and musical comedy. Millinery has gone military in a most dashing way.

Since we cannot divorce our thoughts of the "mode militaire" from braided ornamentation, it is not surprising that the use of this type of passementerie is being introduced in some of the new hats. While a number of models definitely claim alliance with the army or navy, by the use of gilt or colored braids such as appear on uniforms, there are more conservative ways of handling braided trimming which may hardly be termed military at all.

QUESTION: "How should a widow about to be married for the second time dress for her wedding?—Mrs. K. D."

ANSWER: She does not wear white or a veil. These are for girl brides only. As an elaborate second marriage is in poor taste, she will marry quietly at home or at church, and dress simply, but becomingly, in attractive afternoon clothes, dress, hat, she wears gloves. She does not carry a bouquet, but may wear a corsage.

MODERN WOMEN

Widows Remain Great Favorites as Material for Marriage

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

CONSIDERING the extraordinary number of widows in the world it is to be marveled at that they are not regarded as a drug on the market, instead of being at a premium.

Widows have always had the inside track in the matrimonial sweepstakes. Many an attractive single girl has cried herself to sleep because some less attractive woman who happens to be widowed has put it all over her.

Why does the girl wail and wonder? And why, indeed? A widower is not particularly marked man, unless the circumstances surrounding his bereavement happen to be of the sort that call for feminine action or sympathy. A recently bereaved widower has a horrible time of it. He is pursued by designing females and by others with no other design than to be kind. After the first months of his bereavement, however, women are not inclined to single him out. But widows! That's a different story.

Men will sometimes break down and confess their preferences for the society of women who have been once wed and really widowed, not divorced. This is based on the fact that they have a greater understanding and appreciation of men than is to be found in less experienced women, or in women whose experiences are of the sort that leads them to bitterness.

Drop the Self-Pity

Widows are wise enough to cover up any bitterness they may feel toward fate. They know from personal experience that men dislike embittered women, and are inclined to be impatient with women with a grievance. Self-pity never wins much sympathy from the masculine heart. The "brave little woman" does.

It's not easy enough for a man to imagine what a terrible experience it is for a woman to lose her mate. His ego aids him in this. From then on it is easy for the floodgates of sympathy to be opened for an even greater flood of feeling.

One wonders what will be the eventual effect on man's protective instincts when women are even more efficient than they are today. Lone women have fought many good fights single-handed. She is momentarily off balance, she is momentarily off her poise that once was hers, but she is bound to recover another that will stand her in as good stead.

Men realize that the worthwhile person is never permanently downed by adversity. They have a whole-hearted respect for anyone who takes a licking and comes up smiling.

Can Make Success

Because she is able to throw her whole heart and soul into an enterprise a widow is often capable of making a great success. If she has ever had a level head her reasoning powers will not be permanently impaired. She will therefore realize that readjustments of her life are in order. Few women can, or would care to, continue a living just as they had before their bereavement. Family hotels are cluttered with widows who felt disinclined to stay on in homes that were now meaningless.

They decline with thanks a half-hearted invitation from their married sons or daughters to make their home with them. Why should they submerge their individuality? Life has many interests for the woman with gumption enough to ferret them out. She may travel or take up some occupation, either study or research. Or she may, if she is reasonably young and attractive, meet men who are companionable and congenial. Whether or not their object is matrimony—or hers, either—she may get a great deal out of contacts with them.

Few widows ever admit they hope to remarry. Most of them are shocked by the suggestion, which doesn't, as you notice, slow up the marriage rate among them. And men like to marry widows.

Nothing succeeds like success—even in marriage.

Short Cuts

If you like clams, try fixing them as follows: Line the broiling pan with clams on the half shell. Cover each clam with chopped green pepper and two small strips of bacon and a sprinkling of paprika. Place under the flames of a hot oven. When bacon has browned to a crisp, the clams will be ready for eating.

Grease can be removed from most materials by placing the material right side down over a piece of brown wrapping paper. Press over the wrong side of the material with a hot iron. The heat of the iron will drive the grease from the material into the paper. Grease has a tendency to go from a warm spot to a cooler one.

MR. ROOSEVELT MAKES BID FOR FARM SUPPORT

ABOARD ROOSEVELT SPECIAL EN ROUTE CALIFORNIA, Sept. 28.—UP—Pledging a continuation of New Deal farm policies justified by ideals embraced by the constitution itself, President Roosevelt tonight moved through the nation's agricultural belt headed slowly for the Pacific Coast.

The Chief Executive, flanked at either side by his wife and daughter, tonight moved through the nation's agricultural belt headed slowly for the Pacific Coast.

LAUDS AAA
He extolled the agricultural adjustment act and the Federal government's monetary policy as steps bringing the farmer to steady economic recovery.

He pointed to increase in farm incomes and challenged the beneficiaries of such acts to guard the gains that have been made.

BID FOR SUPPORT

To observers, Mr. Roosevelt's utterances were looked upon as a bid for the agricultural West's support in 1936, and also as an adroit use of enemy ammunition—that ammunition being the Constitution.

"I like to think," he remarked, "that agricultural adjustment is an expression, in concrete form, of the human rights those farmer patriots sought to win when they stood on the bridge at Concord, when they proclaimed the Declaration of Independence, and when they perpetuated these ideals by the adoption of the Constitution. Methods and machinery change, but principles go on, and I have faith that, no matter what attempts may be made to tear it down, the principle of farm equality expressed by agricultural adjustment will not die."

Investigators Of S. F. Police Graft Named

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—With $25,000 at his disposal to conduct an investigation into "police payoffs and graft," District Attorney Matthew Brady today began appointing a staff of special investigators. He refused to divulge their names.

In the meantime, Supervisor Andrew Gallagher, already under a five-day sentence for contempt of court because he refused to divulge basis for his charges that graft is widespread in the force, was subpoenaed to appear before the Grand Jury again on Monday night.

The District Court of Appeals advanced from September 28 to October 7, the date when the writ of habeas corpus on which Gallagher obtained his freedom, will be argued.

The entire probe began when John V. Lewis, collector of internal revenue, in a San Rafael speech, charged that income taxes far in excess of amounts normally collected from salaried officers had been paid by certain San Francisco police captains. He refused to testify on grounds that income tax matters are privileged.

SERA Fraud In Washington Is Held To Be Myth

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (UP)—The Federal Emergency Relief Administration today announced after an exhaustive investigation that "the alleged $30,000,000 steal" in distribution of unemployment aid in Washington state "was found to be a myth."

FEERA however, uncovered certain irregularities said to be "the result of petty chicanery, occurring as the result of mismanagement under a system of decentralized control and authority during the period in which relief was extended under the county board set up."

The probe was made after the state's department of efficiency and the legislative investigation committee filed more than 100 specific items of complaint and citations of irregularity with detailed relief officials.

Boy Scout troops by these organizations and extending their financial and moral support, indicating that these organizations had taken some of the burden off the church. The acts, he argued, can be rightly labeled as religious in nature, in distinction from being denominational.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST

To the Community Chest has fallen the task of raising money for the carrying on of these various activities. The Boy and Girl Scouts, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Catholic Ladies Aid and the Y. M. C. A. are in debt and in truth community work is building up manhood and womanhood and salvaging humanity. What greater or nobler work could fall to the lot of a community or a group of individuals?

REAL RELIGION

The men and women who are giving their time, their talents and energies to the drive, their only compensation being the satisfaction derived from being helpful to those less fortunate than themselves are entitled to commendation. It is such a spirit that makes communities great for the real measure of any community, after all, can in the final analysis be rightly judged only by such acts as these. They are the test of our moral fibre and our love for our fellowman.

ASKS LITTLE

The Community Chest here does not ask for a million-dollar gift. It does solicit your mite, and no man or woman with any kind of an income can afford not to be numbered among the contributors. When we spend our money for amusements, good and bad, we cater to our own selfish desires; why should we then evidence any reluctance in letting our generous impulses hold sway for a just cause?

TRY IT AND SEE

Experience has demonstrated that "it is more blessed to give than receive." If you do not believe this statement, loosen up your purse strings for the Community Chest, and I guarantee that you will then know the real meaning of that wonderful promise: "And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these, my little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you he shall in no wise lose his reward."

Woman In Red Wins Delay In Deportation

CHICAGO, Sept. 28. (UP)—On a plea that Department of Justice agents had promised her freedom from deportation for her aid in tracking John Dillinger to his death, Anna Sage, the "woman in red" today won a week's delay from deportation to Romania.

Federal Judge John P. Harney granted her a writ of habeas corpus. She was to have been deported tonight.

"Reality" Subject At Science Church

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read today, Sunday, September 29, on the subject "Reality."

The Golden Text will be: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of light, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1: 17). Bible selections will include the following: passage from Jeremiah 51: 10, 15; "The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness; come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God. . . . He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding."

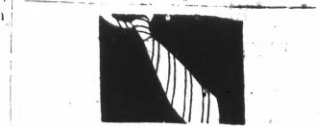

A passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "The three great verities of Spirit, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience. . . . Spirit possessing all power, filling all space, constituting the belief that matter can be actual. These eternal verities reveal primeval existence as the radiant reality of God's creation, in which all that He has made is pronounced by His wisdom good" (pp. 109, 110).

Check Racket Under Probe By Police

retary of the State Prison Board and were made payable to "M. J. Goodson."

The racket is reported here to have first come to light when the man left his tickets at the Greyhound stage office, after taking his change. When he failed to return for the tickets, the office manager became suspicious and called Warden Holohan's office. He was informed there was no such account in the Richmond bank.

An investigation was started at once. The first checks showed up at the bank here Friday and two more were received yesterday morning. It is not known how many more of the worthless checks may have been cashed.

Authorities are working on the theory that the check passer must at some time have been connected with the prison office, either as a trusty in a pen or an employee, or he had some contact with the office through which he learned the prison check system.

The prison is said to maintain an account at the First National Bank of San Rafael for transportation of prisoners, but has never kept such an account in the bank here.

Solons To Push Action On Legion Demand For Bonus

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (UP)—Plans to rush the American Legion's bonus bill through the House within a few days after Congress convenes in January were being mapped here today in a move to thwart an early House vote on the Legion-repudiated Padman inflation bonus measure.

Democratic leaders were backing the program, anxious to keep party members from being forced to vote on the politically dangerous inflation issue.

The Legion's strong stand at its St. Louis convention against the two billion dollar greenback issue for bonus payments was viewed generally as definitely insuring early Congressional passage of a bonus measure which will become law.
